THE COLYUM.

Many humorous things come to light during the course of our life. For instance, a good friend J. R. Postlethwaite has five cows and each milks every one of them inclusive of the other actually produce quarts of milk every time milks them or causes the same to be done.

0000

Guy Givens is still so stuck up over the way he fed the big crowd in town on last county court day that he will not walk outside of the sidewalk for fear of bumping into a projecting wall. That was sure a big day for Guy though.

0000

It would do you good to hear Jas. H. Orme tell about the fine stock he saw at the Indiana State Fair which he attended this fall, while in Indianapolis buying his holiday goods. There is one sure thing—that fine cattle and all the accompanying nice things of country life follow good roads as sure as day follows the night.

0000

For fear that some of you have forgotten that there are still some improvements to be built in Marion I will call your attention to the fact that the old bridge on Bellville street, near the railroad track is in need of some minor repairs. I believe that I have already mentioned this though in a previous issue.

0000

Some people sure have queer ideas about a weekly paper. They think that when the paper is in the mails that we have nothing to do then until next press day.

0000

The Methodists had the biggest attendance at Sunday School last Sunday than they have had for several months. There is nothing magical about that though. They run an ad in the Press last week. That always brings results.

0000

There are one or two other lines of business in Marion that could well tear a leaf out of the experiences of some of the folks who advertise regularly in the Press, and there would probably be a great deal more of Crittenden money left here than there is now, if they would profit by this example that is being set up before them.

IN SOCIETY

The following was clipped from a Deland, Fla., paper: SANDERSON-HAYNES

"A wedding of much interest to their host of friends was solemnized Tuesday, Sept. 1, when Miss Ruth Fulton Haynes became the bride of Mr. Herbert Converse Sanderson, of Columbus, Ohio. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Haynes, North Clara Ave., at 2:30 o'clock by Dr. D. J. Blocker, the double ring service being used and was witnessed by only the relatives and a few intimate friends. At the appointed hour, to the strains of the wedding music played by Miss Olive Cruse, the bridal party entered, led by the maid of honor, Miss Mamie Haynes, sister of the bride, charmingly attired in a gown of beaded pink georgette, white georgette hat and carrying bride's roses. The bride, lovely in a white georgette gown and white georgette hat and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and tulips, entered with her brother, Mr. Chastain Haynes, who gave her in marriage. The groom with his best man, Mr. Charles Limpus, of Orlando, joined them at an arch of Mexican vine, on each side of which were tall baskets of roses and tulips, where the ceremony was pronounced in a most beautiful and impressive manner.

Refreshments were served and the couple, left soon after for Jacksonville, leaving there on the steamer, Mohawk for New York and other eastern points.

The bride's traveling suit was blue tricotine with gray accessories.

Mrs. Sanderson is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Haynes, and a graduate of the College of Arts, Stetson University. Mr. Sanderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ford Hill Being Worked

The people who travel the Ford's Ferry road and are acquainted with the Ford Hill will be glad to know that it is being worked. It is not more than half finished because it is slow hard work, but if the men around there will get together and help Mr. Ford and the hands they can soon finish the job. This road can be made a good one with a little effort. If you can't help work the road your self send Mr. Ford a $5 or $10 bill and let him hire other hands.

Win at Earlington.

The Marion Red Sox played Sunday, the 14th, against Earlington and made a winning of nine to one. It was a very good game, but not close enough to be interesting.

Earlington has a team which is considered very good—but the Red Sox just can't be beaten. Brad Wheeler's home-run with the bases full was the main feature of the game.

Floyd Wheeler pitched a good steady game allowing only two hits.

GRIFFITH'S "HEARTS OF THE WORLD" THE BEST SHOWN

The first production in Warsaw of Griffith's masterpiece, "Hearts of the World," given last night at the Centennial Theatre, for two hours thrilled the audience. It is the greatest production in filmdom in the country to-day and to miss seeing it while you can is to miss an opportunity of being an eye witness to the world war itself. Many of the pictures were taken while Hun and Allied troops were in action, some of them within 50 yards of the German battle line and others only 200 yards away, with shrapnel bursting in the air above the camera man, whose uneasiness at where the next shell would bust must have been intense.

The story running through the production is splendid and pathetic. Unlike many film productions the story is not the least overdrawn. The unfolding on the screen of "Hearts of the World," is accompanied by a fine orchestra. Heralded as the most thrilling and interesting film production, "Hearts of the World" is without question the greatest ever seen here, and the Centennial management is to be congratulated over securing Griffith's masterpiece. Every body should see it before it goes elsewhere. Saturday night is its last presentation. With matinees Friday and Saturday afternoon.

This picture will be shown in Marion, at the Strand Theatre, September, 29th and 30th.
